

The phrase "we aren't a glum lot" appears on page 132 in the chapter titled "The Family Afterward" of the Alcoholics Anonymous Big Book.

The full passage says:

"We have been speaking to you of serious, sometimes tragic things. We have been dealing with alcohol in its worst aspect. But we aren't a glum lot. If newcomers could see no joy or fun in our existence, they wouldn't want it. We absolutely insist on enjoying life."

TRADITION TEN

"Alcoholics Anonymous has no opinion on outside issues; hence the A.A. name ought never be drawn into public controversy."

STEP TEN

"Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it."

PROMISE TEN

"Fear of people and of economic insecurity will leave us."

CONCEPT TEN

"Every service responsibility should be matched by an equal service authority — the scope of such authority to be always well defined whether by tradition, by resolution, by specific job description or by appropriate charters and bylaws."

Delegate's Corner – October 2026 – Area 78

My name is Dave S and I am an alcoholic. I am excited for all of us entering October. This is the 10th month and a lot of our groups will be discussing Step 10, looking at ourselves and continuing to take personal inventory. I have personally found Step 10, which I did not really practice in my prior stints in sobriety. Step 10 is the most valuable tool for me in my relationship with others, especially with my wife. For anyone in a relationship with another, I highly recommend it!

BIG NEWS! I am writing this the Monday after our Area 78 Business Assembly in Edmonton. There were 182 AA members in the room and 28 livestreaming the weekend, as we worked through reports and many, many motions on the floor to be voted on. There were 25 brand new GSRs. The biggest news is that Area 78 passed a motion to have fully hybrid assemblies.

Starting in March 2027, any trusted servant who cannot make an Assembly due to health concerns or any other reason will be able to give their reports, vote on motions and vote at election assemblies when we elect our new trusted servants.

There was more business conducted with more motions than I've seen since 2016. There was much robust discussion. Our Chair, Lynn C, did an amazing job of conducting the hours of business with love, respect and trust. The process went amazingly smooth. The results will all be in the minutes within about six weeks in Area 78 Private Downloads. Ask your GSR how to access this important information.

In Alcoholics Anonymous, the biggest change in my life was the day I put my hand up to be the GSR of my group. The first assembly or two can be overwhelming. Every service position in AA, in general service or within the groups, what I have witnessed – the people who stay a little later or come a little earlier, are the people more filled with joy, gratitude and a love that keeps expanding for Alcoholics Anonymous.

I want to thank each and every one of you that I have met along the way at every meeting I have attended in our common purpose to help the still suffering alcoholic.

My wife Val and I look forward to meeting you along the way.

My wish for all of you is in this quote:

“Our spiritual way of life is one of constant growth and change” – Bill W.

In Gratitude Your Humble Servant

The Tenth Tradition

No A.A. group or member should ever, in such a way as to implicate AA, express any opinion on outside controversial issues - particularly those of politics, alcohol reform, or sectarian religion. The Alcoholics Anonymous groups oppose no one. Concerning such matters they can express no views whatever.

Since it began Alcoholics Anonymous never has been divided by a major controversial issue. Our fellowship never has taken sides publicly on any question in this embattled world. This has been no earned virtue. It could almost be said that we were born with it, for as one old-timer recently declared, "Practically never have I heard a heated religious, political, or reform argument among AA members. So long as we don't argue these matters privately, it's a cinch we never shall argue them publicly."

Let us re-emphasize that this reluctance to fight one another or anybody else is not counted as some special virtue which makes us feel superior to other people. Nor does it mean that the members of Alcoholics Anonymous, now restored as citizens of the world, are going to back away from their individual responsibilities to act as they see the right upon issues of our time. But when it comes to AA as a whole, that is a different matter. As AA's we do not enter into public controversy, because we know that our fellowship will perish if we do. We conceive the survival and spread of Alcoholics Anonymous to be something of greater importance than any weight we could collectively throw back of other causes. Recovery from alcoholism is life itself to us, and we wish to preserve in full strength our means of survival.

Considering how most of us have really loved controversy, this denial of the privilege of attacking something or somebody in public is no small achievement for the naturally aggressive people that we are. To make our survival as a fellowship sure, we have often gone far in the opposite direction. Years ago, for example, we stood in great fear of the misuse of the AA name by AA's and outside groups who wanted to use it for their own money-raising, controversial, or publicity purposes. And we reflected that the bigger AA grew, the greater this temptation would surely be. Therefore we felt we had to find a way legally to protect the precious name of our society. Our Trustees were advised that this could be done only by incorporating the name Alcoholics Anonymous in every state of the Union and in all foreign countries. We actually began this tedious, complicated, and expensive task, which finally bogged down in a mass of technicalities, red tape, and charter.

But the conscience of Alcoholics Anonymous, its General Service Conference, had other ideas. The Conference pointed out to us how foolish it would be to incorporate AA's way of life as a legal instrument with which to attack anyone, no matter what the provocation. We would not be content with such an instrument for purposes of pure restraint. Under enough provocation, we would be bound to start public lawsuits and thus enter the field of public controversy. It would be like building a war machine on the theory that it would always stay home and never fight. It would mean the legal organization of a fellowship whose Traditions insisted on its being unorganized. The Conference thought we ought to forget about the questionable advantages of legality and controversy and rely on group and public opinion for our ultimate protection. After long debate, we at the Headquarters saw that the conscience of Alcoholics Anonymous, acting through the delegates, was wiser than we were. So the Congress of the United States was never asked to incorporate AA.

We aren't a Glum Lot

What's the difference between me and god? - god doesn't walk around thinking he's me.

I have an allergy to alcohol. Every time I drink I break out in handcuffs.

FAITHFUL FIVERS

The Faithful Fiver Club was initiated several years ago to generate funds for Central Office. AA members pledge a donation of $5.00 or more a month. They then receive the satisfaction of carrying the message to the alcoholic who still suffers, and recognition (if they desire) in the monthly ECOS Newsletter. Please contact Central Office.
